Hear Startling Evidence

GENERAL VIEW OF INTERIOR OF COURTROOM DURING TRIAL OF FOUR-YEAR-OLD MURDER

Here in Somerville, N. J., the great drama is being unfolded under the sharp questioning of Prosecutor Simpson. Right off the bat, when the trial opened, he sprang a surprise witness in John L. Dickson, who testified that Willie Stevens, one of defendants, and Mrs. Hall's "erratic" brother, was not at home the evening of the murders of Rector.

Aboard Queen Marie's Special Train (in Washington), Nov. 4.—The transatlantic tour of Queen Marie of Rumania, was met with internal eruptions today.

For this afternoon in Seattle. While Her Majesty listened in amazement to a controversy arose in which Hill attempted to issue orders to Washburn, who was a controversial figure to the British Queen.

BURGLARS GET $15,000 LOOT IN NEWTON HOME

Jewelry valued at more than $15,000 was stolen today from the mansion of Mrs. W. W. Rogers, Newton leader here, by burglars who reached the pretensions dwelling at No. 213 Waverley street, Newton.

HENRY SEEN AT SPOT YEAR AFTER CRIME

Court House, Somerville, N. J., Nov. 4.—Henry Stevens, expert marksman, on trial with two others for murder in the Hall-Mills case, visited the scene of the crime a year after the double murder was committed and when he passed the spot where the bodies were found he almost collapsed, it was testified in court today.

This dramatic testimony was given by Mrs. Anna L. Hoag, who lived on a farm near the scene of the double murder.

Mrs. Hoag, an elderly woman, with a sharp, incisive voice, came to the stand muffled in heavy tan and brown fur-collared coat.

She said that she now lives in East Orange but four years ago she resided on a farm near De Russay's lane, where the Rev. Edward W. Hall and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, were shot to death on the night of September 14, 1922.

Heard 4 Shots at Night

"Did you hear or see anything unusual on the night of September 14, 1922?" Senator Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor asked the witness.

"I did. That night I heard four shots."

"Did anything unusual come to your attention at any time after the murders?" Simpson asked.

"Yes, about a year after."

"What was that?"

"Well, a man came to my place—"

"Can you identify that man?" Simpson asked.

She rose from her seat, glanced around and then dramatically

SOMERVILLE BOY DIES UNDER TRUCK; 1 HURT

One Somerville boy, four years old, has been killed, the first child to be killed while crossing over a trolley a few months before the birth of the boy who was killed today.

George K. Surprenant is dead, and Norman B. Bruns is on the danger list at Somerville Hospital. Their mother is Mrs. Evelyn Bruns, No. 28 Glen street.

The delivery, police say, was Major A. H. H. of Glen street.

Risks were arrested on a charge of driving so as to endanger lives and safety of the public and will be arraigned tomorrow in Somerville.

This is the second time an accident of this kind has occurred.

THE ELECTION figures come out, all disappointing, and all pleasing to someone. They seem unimportant to the people on the Maine Desert in California, where this is written. The couple digging a well with pick and shovel, now down 140 feet, back in the valley, are little above the business of Illinois, or Butler's defeat in Massachusetts. The husband is down to the well, hammering his way through hardpan, not more than sixteen inches under a hard day's work. His wife, at the top, holds up the dirt by windlass power. Not who is elected but how much further down to water, is their question.

MR. VERNON BAILEY of the Agricultural Department is here busy on the hot land, making a movie picture of a wide-windier rattlesnake, photographing huge desert turkeys, and studying the six-inch brantails, with their hairy legs and fierce court.

GERMAN MARK KING DIVORCED

WEALTH WENT TO HIS HEAD, WIFE SAYS

Sudden wealth, garnered when he made a killing in German marks, "went to the head" of George H. Perkins, prominent Boston broker, according to the testimony of his wife, Mrs. Abbie L. Perkins, who was awarded a divorce in Middlesex Probate Court today.

The final chapter of an eventful hearing was written when Judge Arthur L. Benson awarded the decree to Mrs. Perkins after testimony to the effect that she was "nothing more than a housekeeper" to Perkins after Eliza Edmund, original "Go to Church" chorus girl, sued him for breach of promise.

Perkins came into the limelight when the chorus girl asked heart balm of $100,000 in 1921. He bitterly opposed her suit.

Today's court action marks the ending of a romance which had its beginning in the theatrical world. Mrs. Perkins was a theatre organist.

ANNIE OAKLEY, LONG ILL, DIES

WON FAME AS A RIFLE SHOT IN 'WILD WEST'

Greenville, O., Nov. 4.—Plans were being made today to carry out arrangements made in advance for the funeral of Annie Oakley, champion marksman who achieved a down shooting records made while touring with Buffalo Bill's Wild West show.

Her husband, Frank E. Butler, survives her. She will be buried in a cemetery lot that she recently purchased, realizing her death was near after a long illness.

She was credited with breaking 945 issued balls out of 1,000; 96 clay pigeons out of 100; 50 straight double clays, and 49 live birds out of 50. She also broke 4,772 glass balls out of 5,000 in a single day's shooting.

It was Buffalo Bill himself who gave her the name of "Little Sure Shot."

Her last appearance was at Brooklyn Fair in 1922. She was 64 years old.

HOME CITY CARRIED BY WALSH

By ASSOCIATED PRESS.

An error in the announcement of the vote for U. S. Senator at the polling place in one of the Fitchburg wards on election day was discovered today.

The corrected vote shows that Walsh carried the city by a vote of 5,455 to 4,773 for Butler. On election night the Fitchburg vote was given as Walsh 4,742, Butler 5,112.

The revised vote of the State complete is:

For Governor: Fuller (R), 165,549;
Gaston (D), 447,729.
For Lieut.-Gov.: Allen (R), 169,403;
Tullock (D), 384,682.
For Senator: Butler (R), 168,986;
Walsh (D), 214,924.

Re-elected, as usual, in spite of the opposition of his own party's leaders, State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook today reminded the voters of Massachusetts and the world in general, that he made no promises in the election campaign.

"Nothing paid or promised," he wrote on the return that he filed with the Secretary of State, at the State House, in accordance with the corrupt practices law.

As the returns seeped in slowly it was more and more apparent that the "bird boy" of the Republican party had been ruthlessly slashed in Republican stronghold and his majority of 67,176 votes over Chaggett two years ago nearly wiped out.

MADDEN TO DEMAND TAX CUT

Chicago, Nov. 4 (A.P.).—The Chicago Daily News today printed a news story saying that Martin B. Madden, chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives and "Watchdog" of the Federal Treasury, "was of opinion that taxes on next year's incomes will be cut $300,000,000 to $400,000,000."

"I am certain that another reduction can be made and I will recommend it, as I did the last one," The Daily News quoted the Congressman as saying.

"There will be a surplus in the Treasury at the end of this year. It will amount to about $100,000,000. Next year we will undoubtedly be able to arrange a new tax cut to become effective in 1928 on 1927 income."

Mr. Madden hesitated to forecast what taxes would receive the benefit of the next cut, but he indicated that the checks and amendment tax probably would be removed, said The Daily News.

Washington, Nov. 4 (U.S.).—Demand for immediate Federal tax reduction and extension of the period in which the public debt will be retired, is anticipated at the December Congress by high Treasury officials, as a result of the election.

Both movements have been pushed by Democratic leaders, are opposed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

A tense and dramatic scene was enacted when Chief Wright, responding to a telephone alarm with only a constitution against the smoke, belching from the windows that framed them.

Chief Wright had ordered a boy alarm, and the terrified girls, clutched in the smoke and fearful of the red glare that was creeping nearer and nearer, were restrained from jumping long enough to allow the ladder trucks to arrive and rescue them.

Firesmen Sullivan, Brown and Armstrong were injured or overcome when they attempted to fight their way through the smoke and flames.

BRIDE CLEARED BY JUDGE IN BABY'S DEATH

Out of the depths of fear and anguish emerged today the two-month Roxbury bride, Mrs. Helen Pauline Donnell, to be reconciled with her husband and freed by a judge—saved by a trick of fate from standing trial for the poisoning of her seven-month-old baby boy.

She was removed forever from the shadow of the manslaughter charge that hung over her after Judge Abner of Roxbury court listened to the evidence of the medical examiner who decided that the child died of a sudden glandular attack even as the young mother poured poison into the bottle.

The strangeness of it all bewildered the bride as she stood the judge in his lobby, safe from the curious stares of the courtroom crowd, and later she wept softly in the protecting fold of her forgiving husband's arms as she left court to begin life anew.

Mrs. Donnell was placed under arrest to spend the night in custody of the police, after she admitted trying to poison the child. Her reason, she said, was because of her birth. For a time she tried with poor success to work and care for the infant, and then she married Donnell.

Falling to get a charitable organization to take her baby son off her hands for good, she said she brought the poison. The baby died in her arms and she conceived a story to show it was a stranger's child but the police placed her out of court.

WHAT THE LARGER primitive man has been doing at the ballot box to naturalists here is less important than the problem of wiping out empires.

Everything depends on where you are, and what you are doing. Travel three thousand miles out here, where the mail ships fly overhead and the wind moans across the mountains from the Pacific, and you wonder that "what's elected" could ever seem important.

FOR YOUR consolation, if disappointed, remember that one election in the life of a nation is not more important than one little convulsive kick in the life of a new born baby. It would have made no difference had that particular kick never occurred. It would have made no real difference had Tuesday's election never taken place.

THE EVIL that men do lives after them, especially when it is foisted back to their children.

Mammolo Zamboni thought he was an Anarchist and talked anarchy against all government to his three sons. The war's end made anarchy seem so near that Zamboni lost his taste for it and joined the Fascists, following Mussolini.

But his eighteen-year-old son, Antonio, remembered and remained faithful to his father's theories. The father, last Sunday night, saw his young son's body in the Bologna police station, stabbed and kicked to death by a mob for attempting the life of Mussolini.

WE NOBLE white westerners are different from the Japanese. For instance, the event that excites us is a great prize fight. The Japanese get excited about their marvelous annual chrysanthemum show. Japanese sympathize with their Empress just now, because her husband's illness keeps her from the show. We, generally speaking, think ourselves more civilized than Japan. The Japanese reject that theory.

A THIRD chamber of King Tut's tomb (everybody calls him Tut now), just opened, reveals fifteen beats of the heart designed to carry the Pharaoh's soul from Earth to Heaven.

It would be hard to get out from our Earth dock. Be sides, perfectly re-actable men, even clergymen, now doubt that the soul is a reality. It must have been com'rt to believe, as ancient rulers did, that God was their cousin, and expecting them to come and spend an Eternity.

NEW YORK'S wet and dry referendum proves overwhelmingly that New York City yearns for light wines and beer as the wanderers yearned for the flesh pots of Egypt.

Yearning and voting, however, will have little to do with getting light wines and beer. The significant amendment is there, and will stay. Congressmen are in deadly fear of ferociously earnest prohibitionists, that never forgive, and never forget to vote.

NEW YORK'S vote will have some effect. Public officials will take the vote as justification for "going easy" with bootleggers, possibly for going "city-city" with them.

That will make bootlegging whiter and gin more plentiful. But never and light wines? No. They are far in the future. It would take a revolution to bring them back.

The bootlegger is entitled to have his lining, and is having it.

LABOR CRISIS
IN EUROPE

Geneva, Nov. 4 (A. P.)—With American workers discussing a five-day week, Europe still is best-tasting whether it will adopt the eight-hour day agreed to at the Washington labor conference. This hesitation has caused a crisis in the International Labor Bureau, which was created under the treaty of Versailles at the same time as the League of Nations.

Labor delegates on the executive council of the bureau have threatened to leave the organization altogether unless something is speedily done to secure an eight-hour day throughout Europe.

becoming impatient over the delay, and that this impatience may take the form of aggressive class war in order that the laboring man may attain what he deems his just position.

Italy has ratified the eight-hour day convention on the condition that it be also ratified by Great Britain, France, Germany and Switzerland, none of which powers have yet put the convention in operation.

A recent decree by Mussolini's government, authorizing a nine-hour day in the face of this conditional ratification, evoked the special reof labor delegates generally, who were only soothed when the Italian government representative assured them that the decree had not gone into force and that it had merely been prepared as a means of helping Italian economic rehabilitation.

G. O. P. GRIP IN CONGRESS CUT IN ELECTION

Washington, Nov. 4 (Universal)—The administration was nothing but trouble across the horizon of the results of Tuesday's Congressional elections.

Included Republican majorities for a combination of insurgents and Democrats can control all legislation in both houses and that these elements will do everything possible to embarrass the President and defeat the policies he held to be certain.

The Republicans elected 31 House members and the Democrats 14 in Tuesday's election, giving the Democrats a net gain of seven seats.

The Republicans lost, at least, thirteen Congressmen, reducing the House control to thirty, including the La Follette rebels and disaffected Agrarians from the West.

The leaders counted as the most vocal blots of all the smashing defeat of Senator Butler and Senator Wadsworth in the conspicuous contests in Massachusetts and New York.

With Oregon a trifling doubtful, but believed to have gone Republican, the makeup of the next Senate was found to be a sensational deadlock.

Democrats—37.
Farmer-Labor—1.

The vacancy exists in Maine, where a special election will be held on November 13 to choose a successor to the late Senator Bert H. French, sturdy Yankee foe of the World Court. Here a Republican is expected to be elected.

The Republicans are left with only a slender doubtful domination of the Senate in the last two years of the Coolidge administration. Any momentary fusion of the Democrats and the Senate insurgents from the West will turn it upside down.

It is anticipated as Republicans to this list are Morah, "Young Bob" La Follette, who halts upon being designated as a "Progressive Republican," and Senator-elect Hiram W. Hiram, also elected in La Follette's progressive. Not to mention Senator Gerald P. Nye, the youthful radical from the Northwest; Colonel Smith W. Brookhart and Lane J.razier, who was formally read out of the Republican Party along with the late Senator La Follette and Ladd.

EDGE PREDICTS DRASTIC DRY LAW CHANGE

Washington, Nov. 4 (A. P.)—The issue inherent in prohibition as a political issue clouded the outcome in Tuesday's elections with the result that victory was claimed to be by leaders of both wet and dry forces.

The election, in the opinion of Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, and wet leader, "should insure Volstead act revision within constitutional limits."

But Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, declared that "in every state where the drys had a fighting chance, except Massachusetts, they won in the senatorial contests, according to reports received at our headquarters."

FOR "BANE" LAWS.

"From every significant angle of approach," said W. H. Clayton, national chairman of the association against the prohibition amendment, the results "may fairly be considered to constitute unequalled victories for the advocates of a substitution of sane regulatory liquor laws for the prohibitory 18th amendment and the vicious Volstead act."

In New York State, Senator-Elect Warner, Democrat, said he regarded his election and the result of the state referendum on the question of giving states the right to determine what liquor is intoxicating as "a mandate to me to try all ways to get modification of it a Volstead law."

In Illinois George E. Sullard, State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said the defeat of George E. Brennan, Democratic senatorial nominee and "drinking wet," had "blacked wet straight and put a crimp in their national plans for several years to come."

In California the voters approved the repeal of the State Wright prohibition enforcement law, while in Wisconsin they voted in favor of beer containing at least 2½ per cent. alcohol. Nevada voters favored calling a constitutional convention to modify the 18th amendment and also declined in the affirmative on the question, "Is prohibition a failure?"

BUTCHER NEEDED BOOZE TO PEP UP HIS CLERKS

What with the long hours, the ponderous bookkeeping of cash customers and this and that, a butcher's clerk is hard put to it to keep pepped up on Saturday nights in Blackstone street.

That's the reason why Harry Diamond, proprietor of a butcher shop in Blackstone street, had twelve gallons of liquor in his refrigerator when police of the Hanover street station—although needing no pep—plunged, armed and ready, into the refrigerator where all things rare were not best.

At least, that's the reason Diamond gave Judge Zottoli in Central Court today for the presence of the liquor—the need for keeping his clerks pepped up on Saturday nights.

Diamond appeared a $10 fine for keeping and exposing liquor.

FRENCH FRANC RISES TO 29.63 FOR A DOLLAR

Paris, Nov. 4.—(A. P.)—Efforts by the Bank of France to put the franc on the rapid rise in the franc which has been going on for several weeks have failed to halt the bull movement, and the French unit of currency today reached the highest level for many months when it closed on the bourse at 29.63 to the dollar and 14.65 to the pound sterling.

SENATOR WALSH TO TAKE OATH EARLY THIS MONTH

State election figures must be filed with the Secretary of State by 12 o'clock and towns not later than November 12.

Immediately following that date the vote will be officially counted by the Governor's Council and certificates issued to winning candidates.

With one of these election certificates in his pocket Senator Davis Walsh will at once go to Washington and qualify before the United States Senate, which meets in special session on November 16.

A musical sensation that has swept the country...

The New Orthophonic Victor Record

For more than two years, Victor experimented to produce the record which is now sweeping the country. While this improved record has been available for some months, we did not want to present it formally to the public until it had definitely proved its worth as the finest record made.

Two weeks ago we announced the new Orthophonic Record. Already millions of music-lovers have been thrilled by the music of this new and wonderful type of Victor Record—a record unequalled in clarity, tone, and fidelity to the original.

Here at last is a record as good as the Orthophonic Victrola. There is nothing with which to compare it, except the singing or playing of the artists themselves.

Close your eyes and you cannot believe that you are listening to a reproducing instrument playing a record. It is just as much the actual artist as though he or she were in the room with you. For the tone of these amazing records is the tone of naturalness—round, full, true, not pinched and not too loud.

Microphone recording—Orthophonic—Artists now sing or play in natural position before a microphone, just as they sing or play at a public performance. The microphone "hears" and records what you would hear were you there.

Unpleasant scratch eliminated—Made from a new improved material, Orthophonic Records have eliminated those annoying surface-noises so common to the ordinary type of record. You hear the music and nothing else. Also, these records have longer life.

That elusive "third dimension"—Victor has captured what a great musician calls the "third dimension"—"depth! Just as the great masters gave "relief" and depth to their paintings, so these new records give depth and roundness of tone to reproduced music.

Foremost artists in every class—Victor has always attracted the foremost singers and instrumentalists of the world—operatic—orchestral—popular and dance. Their confidence is more than ever justified by the lifelike fidelity of Victor's new Orthophonic recordings.

Record stops automatically—An exclusive feature of the Orthophonic Victor Record is a groove, cut "off center." When the music has finished playing, the needle swings into this groove and applies the automatic stop on all modern Victrolas.

Hearing is believing—Whether you own an Orthophonic Victrola or not, hear these new Victor Records. They play on any instrument—and vastly improve its playing quality.

Go to your nearest Victor dealer. Go expecting the musical thrill of a lifetime. You will not be disappointed.

DINNER GIVEN TO FILM MAN

A testimonial dinner and farewell party was tendered George L. Schaefer, formerly New England manager in charge of distribution for Famous Players-Lasker Corporation, by his associates in the motion picture industry last night in the ballroom of the Hotel Copple-Chester.

The occasion celebrated the elevation of Mr. Schaefer to the position of eastern division manager for the company. More than two hundred local exhibitors and theatre managers were present to honor the popular executive.

Representatives of State and city, together with many prominent figures of the picture industry, were the principal guests and speakers. Louis M. Bosc was chairman. Judge Albert J. Brackett was toastmaster. Sidney E. Kent, general sales manager for Famous Players, made a special trip from New York to attend, and paid glowing tribute to Mr. Schaefer. Former Mayor James M. Curley joined cordially in the felicitations and presented Schaefer with a diamond-studded wrist watch on behalf of the Bill Gray circuit of theatres.

Mr. Schaefer, New England representative for the Mark Strand chain of theatres, headed the entertainment committee and officiated as master of ceremonies for the presentation of a series of vaudeville turns offered through the courtesy of the local downtown houses. Mr. Schaefer, who upon his new duties at once will start immediately for New York.

WIFE UNAWARE CHASE IS DEAD FOR AIRPLANES

While arrangements were being made today for the funeral of the Rev. J. Frank Chase, secretary of the Watch and Ward Society, his widow is dangerously ill at their home, No. 115 Stratford street, West Roxbury, ignorant of her bereavement.

Mr. Chase died from an attack of pneumonia. He will be buried Sunday in Walnut Hill Cemetery, Brookline, with services at the Daniel Donahoe Memorial Church, Park street, West Roxbury, of which he was one time pastor.

ROBERT K. KERNIGHAN, CANADIAN POET, DEAD

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 4 (U.S.A.)—Robert K. Kernighan, poet and journalist, who wrote under the pen name of "The Kahlo," died today at his home in Rockton after an illness of several months. He was sixty-nine years old.

At one time he was editor of the Winnipeg Sun. He was widely known in the Dominion as the author of many songs and of patriotic and humorous verse. One of his songs, hummed throughout Canada, was "When Daddy Comes Home With His Wagon."

HUMPER PLATES FOR AIRPLANES

New Haven, Conn. Nov. 4 (U.S.A.)—Plans which envisage the interstate for foreign commerce only will be required to be tagged and numbered this automobile, United States Senator Hiram Bingham, who had much to do with molding the new Federal aviation law into shape, said today.

Aviators who fly for pleasure or sport will not be required to take out registration numbers under the new law, the senator said, nor will the law have any jurisdiction over flying within a State.

Senator Bingham said he was particularly interested in this feature of the bill because Connecticut has one of the best, if not the best, aviation law in the country, and accidents are fewest here because of the care exercised by aviation inspectors.

The Federal law does not interfere with experimental flying or with aviation who commute, provided they do not carry passengers or freight or engage in any way in commercial business between States.

RICH MAN AND WIFE IN DEATH MYSTERY
 London, Nov. 4.—Rosa Brunner until last June millionaire chairman of Brunner, Mond & Co., and his wife, Rosa Brunner, the author of a book on death, were found shot to death early in the morning in their home in London. The bodies were found lying on the floor in the room of their daughter, Princess Louise, who is a social figure in the city. The Brunners died at the home at 11:20 o'clock last night.

Two hours later the cook discovered the bodies lying across the table. Mrs. Brunner had been shot through the head, while Brunner had been shot through the body, his still held a revolver in his hand, police said.

Before her marriage in 1918, Mrs. Brunner was Miss Edith Lloyd, daughter of a British lawyer. She was the author of a series of books on death, including "The Death of a Man," "The Death of a Woman," "The Death of a Child," and "The Death of a Dog."

RUNYON SAYS SIMPSON LOOKS

LIKE SMALL TOWN SPORT

By DAMON RUNYON,

Within an hour from the time old

Barlans; and Joseph A. Roach, Middlebush.

State Senator Alexander Simpson told them why they were there, He listed his accounts: a small jockey-aid, "ox terrible! Little man with a wh-dling voice and way with his fellow men. You can call it personality.

The dresses like a small town sport.

John Bunn, the first officer, attired his sonorous voice in a thundering "hear ye, hear ye," they had a jury in the Hall-Mills murder case, and the trial of the century was on.

Twelve serious-looking citizens, swayed to good men and true, mainly beyond middle age, sat in the cramped space allotted to the jury and had been told what they were there for.

He stepped up to the jury and in a quiet, almost confidential manner, as if to lignt them something on the strict Q. T. and using little, short words, he explained how Mrs. For-

Harm Dalley, Somerville; George O. Labow, Nashua; Samuel B. Hope, Concord; and John W. Carpenter separately from the three now being tried.

Prosecutor Identifies Three Defendants During Talk to Jury

Senator Glenison told his story briefly and well. He never raised the question of the defendant's guilt. He merely pointed out to you, which I will do now, that the three men who were tried together with the three men who were tried separately from the three now being tried.

"You will have some difficulty in identifying them because they are all sitting together," he said. Then turning and pointing—

"This man who sits at the end is not a defendant. The man who sits next to him is a defendant."

Henry Stevens, "a man with the browny suit is not a defendant. I don't know who he is. The man sitting next to him is William Stevens, who is indicted, and the woman sitting next to him behind Mr. McCarter, is Frances Hall.

POINTS OUT MRS. HALL.

The woman on the end is not a defendant. So that you will have to keep your minds perfectly clear as to who is being tried, because they are all bunched together and there are no "fighting Marine" Rig old tree stand around the courthouse, their limbs now bare.

Majority of Men Chosen for Jury Are Beyond Middle Age

The sun was shining brightly. It poured through the windows of the judge's bench, covering another stained glass window.

The judges are Frank L. Clearwater, a youngish man with flattened down black hair, and Charles W. Parker, a gray man, who wears glasses and takes many notes and decides a questions of law.

They sit in the court of Oyer and Terminer, which corresponds to the Court of General Sessions in New York, and is the district court of the West. The judges sit at a

MRS. CARPENTER CHATTE.

Mrs. Carpenter is a bright, chatty looking woman with a pleasant smile which shows many teeth. She smiled often and frequently whispered to Mrs. Hall. Mrs. Carpenter wore a black coat trimmed with grey squirrel and kept her gloves on all morning, like a casual visitor. A pair of ear rings dangling from her ears gave her a snappy appearance.

My mental portrait of Mrs. Hall based on what I had read of her, was of a woman cold, emotionless and without heart. She was a woman of immense stature and hard exterior. With that sort of picture in mind, I was scarcely prepared for the entrance of the real Mrs. Hall.

There was nothing dramatic in her appearance. She slipped in through a rear door with her brother-in-law, who was dressed in a

New York, Nov. 4.—Edward W. Browning, Cinderella man, has discovered by now that all is not what it may seem to be on the surface. He got a small package with suspicious labels and a harmless looking letter, but found the latter most Police believe a missing pair of gloves account for the failure to find fingerprints anywhere in the house. Entrance to the mansion was gained by a sun-parlor window.

Four experts from the police department rendered the package harmless only to find that it contained a carved wooden figure symbolical of peace sent by a job seeker, but the letter contained a bill for $100.00 for painting and negligence he says "Peaches" purchased.

A tall, slim man grabbed a bar from Ella Johnson of Ashland street, Roxbury, near the corner of Commonwealth and Massachusetts avenues early today. Then he jumped into an automobile, which carried him away from the scene. Police officers told by the victim that a set of keys were the only articles, except personal memoranda, in the bag.

After all, I was not in church, but in the courtroom here, and the pulpit was really the witness stand, and instead of Dr. Nell it was his successor those you hear from a matinee audience when the handsome villain appears on the stage. But Corsline is too homely ever for a villain. I felt a chill go down my spine when Senator Simpson asked him to draw his hand across his brow as he did before the Grand Jury.

In this morning I leave Mrs. Hall from what would have been almost a certain death. I was in an automobile coming to the trial from New Brunswick when we saw the car carrying Mrs. Hall ahead of us driven by her former gardener.

I'm glad they picked the jury quickly, without a lot of fuss, because I want the trial to go on and be over with. I think Senator Cramer is going to get to business.

EX-GOVERNOR OF KANSAS LOSES SUIT FOR $5,000,000

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 4 (I.N.B.)—The $5,000,000 suit of Jonathan St. Louis former governor of Kansas, against the Kansas City Journal and its owner, Walter B. Dickey, was ended today by Judge John C. Putock of the Federal court of Kansas City, Kan., who issued a decree in favor of the Journal and assessing the costs of the case against the former governor.

The suit was brought on the basis of allegations that the publisher and editors had sought to "persecute" him.

CONDUCTORS ON CRACK FLIERS GET $2 AN HOUR

New York, Nov. 4 (A.P.)—On crack New York Central passenger trains between New York and Buffalo, conductors earn as high as $2.25 an hour and brakemen $1.25 an hour, according to figures made public today.

The pay figures were entered as evidence at the hearing of an arbitration board which is considering the request of conductors and brakemen of eastern railroads for a 20 per cent wage increase.

PAINTER HURT IN FALL OFF CHARLESTOWN BRIDGE

While painting under the new Charlestown bridge, today, Peter Casella, forty-one, slipped on an iron girder and fell twenty-five feet into the water, striking his head on a plank. He caught hold of two boards and hung on until drowned. John Stinson and John Crowley, rescued him.

At Haymarket square relief hospital was found to be sufficient for a lacerated wound of the head and immersion.

Clayning with Precilla Price

Dearest Anne:
You can't expect me to wait until next Monday with important things to tell you popping up at the rate they are now. I can't human nature. And besides you must know them right now.

There's Nutra Cream

For instance, Nutra Cream nearly split our family, and even the canary was singing "Wise John and I fell out, Maggie until I ordered the second jar."

You see, everybody was talking about this Nutrified skin cream that feeds the tissue and makes face young again. So I ordered a $1.00 jar from Dr. B. Stern Company, and received in the softest, smoothest, massager ever and was saying goodby to a host of tiny wrinkles. It felt so clean, so pure and so good. I knew it was the cream of the sea.

Then along came John. "Your cream," he said. "That's my cream. Thought of course you got it for me."

Now, isn't that just like a man? Assuming that any thing extra nice is for him. But no two people can successfully share the same old cream jar. I bought it, I like it and I want it. It's the finest all around cream yet. No artificial face, no inert material and a natural food for the skin.

But John claims it's a man's cream, that the best barbers always use it for a quick close shave. His barber has used over 200 jars already, and the "Nutra Shave" is famous among men. Being a truly beautiful woman, I stopped the argument by ordering a second jar.

An Oriental Rug

Has condescended to grace our hearthstone. For years and years I've longed for one of those rich deep-toned beauties to lay before the fireplace. But the kind I wanted was always too much—much too much.

And now there it is, giving tone and quality to the whole room. Thanks to Adalton Bros., Inc., at 400 Boylston Street. That lucky star that led me down to that rare shop, for they are having a sale of Oriental rugs. These wonderful warm colored Moroccan rugs, selling them for $13.95 apiece, what a chance!

You know those deep toned rugs, in old mahogany shades of brown and blue, with the intricate designs of the Persians, and made to wear for generations.

They are 5' by 8', these rugs, a great pile just unpacked, in exquisite mint, as the freight plays upon it, that I see visions of the far East, the camels patiently treading the desert sands, the great silent stables of the generations of gifted workers who developed the art of weaving these rugs. Some day I hope that rug will teach me a lesson in service.

But right now, I know, without being told that if you want to have one of the choicest in that pile you'd better not let mother day go by. Adalton Bros., Inc., is one of the finest rug houses in New England.

A Tip From Coleman's

Fashion Shop reveals that a whole rack of splendid dress gowns have been reduced to $10.00. Just in time for cold weather, too. New Jersey, according to the hat vendors from Fifth Avenue, with smoking, velvet crepe collars and cuffs, and that a little bit of hand work which we all appreciate so much.

And up in that house of fashion, at 115 Tremont Street, there are afternoon dresses of silk and satin, two piece velvets and lovely crepes, for $15.50. So why pay more when you can get more there, for less? It's like those that stretch out the budget, and give you that well-dressed appearance in the bargain.

What Do You

Suppose happened today? A new star in my crown—Mrs. Sargent's dress shop.

Anyway, we discovered Evelyn's Dress Shop—the friendliest, most dress shop at 5 Winter Street, on the corner of State.

One of the girls at Simmons told her about it. Used it was the first place to go for all the school and college girls. A tradition passed down from class to class. It was a tradition, for we saw the most stunning dresses for $12.75. Almost as good as a whole shop full of them.

Check velvet and moiré over pleated crepe or satin skirts, for $12.75. Almost as good as a whole shop full of them. And we saw wool taffetas in the new dark pin checks for older folk, in black and white or green and black. Crepe de Chine with La Chine satins, jerseys and fine crepes.

For $12.75. Beautifully made, perfect lines, dresses that you would expect to find marked to $35 anywhere. The buttons, seams, the touches of tailoring at the pockets, the firm quality of the silks—everything about them bear the mark of high grade. Any age, any size, from the "Grown-up" to the "Young" to the mature and settled woman.

One of the big reasons for writing you this mid-weekly, special delivery letter—marked Rush!

I've found a shop where you can get the most attractive hat for $12. Don't imagine for an instant that that means cheap. Not a hair of it. It means a very Special Sale, and a golden opportunity for us.

Miss Doyle, room corner of the Lawrence Building, corner of Tremont and West Streets, is closing out all of her French felt hats and velours to make room for other stock. And a whole shop full of $12, $15, and $18 hats is going to be sold for the low price.

They are "personality" hats, Anne. Cleverly draped, with the most delightful trimmings. For instance, one stunning French blue hat is trimmed with blue gros grain piped with silver, and a silver fur on the side. Other hats are broad, mental, pompadour, and a host of other individual touches. As modish as Parisian models, and exceptionally fine quality. The velours are those rich, deep-toned Austrian velours, usually priced One times as high.

Now do you wonder I couldn't wait until next Monday to give this secret with you? And don't you agree with me that it's a perfect life saver for those of us who would love the really fine things, now, but thought we must wait for the January sales? So here's our after Christmas value right now, for nothing like this. There's more charming than these hats, and nothing could be more welcome than that price.

To Step Right

You must step into an alligator shoe. You simply must. There are no "also-goods" this season. No hesitation in the shoe world. It is being worn, it is the thing and it is correct. For once, there's no doubt about it for the shoe world. Sport street, and day wear.

Which would be a serious affair for most of us, for an alligator shoe is look most expensive, and they go really rare. And $18 for a pair of shoes is no small item for you and me.

But I've found a way of stepping out in them without falling in too deep. The Dorset Shoe Shop at 159 Tremont Street has them for $18. The same shoe is made in the Dorset, in fine grain alligator skin, and is called the Dorset. It's the same shoe, but with the Dorset, both high and low heels; the tailored strap pump, and the cut out pump with the spike heel. The most perfect shoe at the most perfect price in the city.

And if you ever run across a patient rather pompous fellow, upon more adorable lines than those at the Dorset, send it to me. It's the Dorset, in fine grain alligator skin, and is called the Dorset. It's the same shoe, but with the Dorset, both high and low heels; the tailored strap pump, and the cut out pump with the spike heel. The most perfect shoe at the most perfect price in the city.

Another Thing

You ought to know is that Plinkin Bros., at 364 Boylston Street are selling Arabian Rose at $2.95 an ounce. That's a Renaud product, a most delicious perfume distilled from rose grown in the royal gardens of Arabia. It comes in a 3 1/2 oz. bottle, and is a lovely, delicate, ethereal, which has the whole drop sample lot, and are offering it to us for this remarkably low figure.

I do truly believe they have the choicest of everything for the beautifying and perfect grooming of women in their toilet goods department. And the most convenient location for the Boylston Street shopper.

And At Last

The hour has come to say goodbye for another few days and keep my daily appointment with Verlot. Verlot is one of those friends who never go back on you, and every hour of close association increases its worth.

For Verlot is the guardian of my complexion, especially the Verlot Swedish Face Bath, which revives my wilting spirits and tired lines at the end of a busy day. It cleanses so delicately, leaves no dryness and cool, as stimulated for whatever the evening may bring, that I would be lost without it.

And now the news has come that the Shepherd store has given it a place of honor in their toilet goods department. There you will find it, the same friendly bottle, full of the fragrant cream which has so often cured. And at the same moderate price of $1.25.

“Compares more favorably with Home-made than any other BREAD we know” say these domestic science classes after testing White Rose Bread

TWO of the leading classes in Domestic Science and Cookery recently tested White Rose Bread.

We wish that every housewife might make these same tests for herself! This is what they did—

First, they compared this loaf with other loaves on the market. They tried it for flavor—for texture—for thoroughness of baking. They compared its keeping qualities—the way it toasts—the way it slices.

They not only tested the loaf itself, but they compared the way it is made, also.

They found that White Rose Bread is not just made with milk—but with almost twice as much milk as many recipes call for! Not just with flour—but with flour tested 3 times in a special Testing Kitchen before it is used.

With the finest shortening that can be bought! With the same grade of sugar and salt that you actually use on your own table!

No wonder they said, after making these tests, that this new loaf “compares more favorably with home-made than any other bread we know!”

Try White Rose Bread today. Notice the difference yourself. See if you, too, do not prefer it to any other loaf you have ever served. It is baked twice daily to be always fresh for you. Massachusetts Baking Company.

MRS. BAUER IN LUNCH ROOM COURT CASE OVER AUTO

Mrs. Annie M. Bauer, wife of Mayor John B. Bauer of Lynn, testified in District Court today against Miss Anna Poma, No. 16 Spruce street, Danvers, who was charged with driving her automobile by a stopped policy car. Mayor Bauer appeared in court.

Mrs. Bauer said she alighted from the car and her skirt was brushed by the Poma machine. She told the number, notified the police, and the street followed.

Miss Poma was fined $15 by Judge Rees.

City officials today admitted having received complaints of the bad street conditions of public alleys in the Back Bay, and that as a result of the case of the late Mrs. Bauer, the city has launched an investigation which quickly disclosed several possible remedies.

Rubbish collection takes place only once a week in the Back Bay while in the West End the city makes trips three times a week, according to Public Works Department.

One of the reasons of the fact that Back Bay homes have five times as much to dispose of in this way as do the West Enders.

Daily collection in the district between Arlington street and Massachusetts avenue may be the eventual solution of the problem.

FOR NEW EQUIPMENT.
"We are planning for new equipment and that may make it possible to take better care of that district," said Deputy Commissioner of Public Works Edward P. Murphy.

He said that the city has been making plans for more frequent collections even before the new equipment arrives.

"I have only just now received a complaint from a Marlborough street resident, and I am checking up on the collection foreman. The reason that we collect more often in the West End, where there is less refuse, is because the people there do not have cellar spaces and refuse is kept in for a few days."

"I have made a personal survey of the public alleys, and think that some of the litter is blown from the cellars or from the collection trucks."

Five miles of alleys, leading to the rear entrances of adjacent Boston residences, will come in for improved attention when the new equipment arrives, according to Deputy Commissioner Murphy.

CITY HEALTH GUARDIAN.
Complaints from the point of view of public health have been given close attention said Health Commissioner Francis X. Mahoney, who declared that he believed Mayor Nichols will "go to the bottom of the question."

A completely satisfactory system of rubbish disposal will only come when all large cities have daily collection service everywhere, said Dr. Mahoney. He said a personal investigation showed him no cause for alarm about health at present.

Co-operation of property owners with the city in paying the boys to make better service more feasible and efficient was suggested by the health commissioner.

HAB 2 INTO TOMBS RIOT; GUARD ALL JAILS

New York, Nov. 4.—Two men were arrested today charged with aiding the spectacular attempted break from Tombs Prison, in which four men were killed and three injured.

The prisoners are Oscar Ambrose and Robert Werner of Brooklyn. Ambrose, police said, is a relative of Hyman Ambrose, alleged murderer, who shot and killed himself while escaping from the high prison walls.

Werner admitted, police said, that he threw two pistols over the prison wall. Some of the worst criminals in America are confined there.

Heavily armed guards were posted at the exits of all New York City penal institutions today as a precaution against a possible repetition of the piched gun battle.

As a result of the battle two of the prisoners, Warden Mallon and another prisoner, were dead today. "Red" McKenna, leader of the prisoners, was in Brooklyn Street Hospital, with a bullet in his brain at the point of death, and another prisoner, known as "Red" McKenna, was seriously wounded.

A civilian, also, was wounded. Four armed patrolmen stood guard over McKenna at the hospital.

DEFIES UNION TO STOP B. & W. SERVICE

Service on the Boston & Worcester Street Railway line will be continued, with buses taking the place of street cars, even though employees of the transportation company go on strike tomorrow.

This was the promise made today by Theodore Franklin T. Miller, who said that he could not give the union employees a new contract as 45 some way of obtaining finances to keep the lines open during the winter could be determined.

Approximately 300 men will quit their work unless the union is re-organized, according to union officials. This will affect transportation in cities and towns from Boston to Worcester.

In answering the charge of the union that he had abandoned a previous contract as a "scab of money," Miller said that recognition of the union is not the issue of the strike. "The employer has recently conferred with representatives of the union," the statement added.

The union officials were aware of the poor financial condition of the street railway, according to the statement, because they had the books of the company audited and were informed that actual running expenses were not covered by receipts.

ADMIRAL COLBY TO BE BURIED SATURDAY

Funeral services for Rear Admiral Harrison Gray Otis Colby, retired, who died at his home at No. 419 Marlboro street, Back Bay, will take place Saturday at Mt. Auburn Chapel cemetery.

Admiral Colby had been ill for several weeks and for 10 days up to his death was confined to his bed. He was 82 years old.

He was born in New York and served in the United States Navy from 1862 to 1892. He was a member of the United States Navy and the United States Army.

PREDICTS AIR LINE FROM HUB TO ANTWERP

Trans-Atlantic communication by airplane from Boston to Antwerp was predicted for the near future by Baron Gaston de Belhonne, Director of Belchem Airways.

In an interview with Donald E. Wilbur, secretary of the Committee on Foreign Trade of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Establishment of Boston as a free port will materially benefit both America and Belgium. Baron Belhonne declared that, because navigation for its residents would arrive at a great quantity.

Baron Belhonne said that by industrial competition between the countries of Europe and the aerial establishment of free trade lanes within the continent, these countries of Europe are coming to a more complete understanding of each other's problems and are making definite headway toward permanent peace.

He said that Belgium at present is at a crossroads. It is being asked to give up its position as a neutral country and to become a belligerent country. It is being asked to give up its position as a neutral country and to become a belligerent country.

Belgium is finding it advantageous to trade with her former enemies, and many Germans are seen and heard on the boulevards of Brussels.

JUDGE ENGLISH RESIGNS UNDER IMPEACHMENT

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 4. (A.P.)—Federal Judge George W. English, in his letter of resignation made public today, said President Coolidge that while he had discharged his duties to the best of his ability, he was convinced his usefulness as a judge had been "seriously impaired" by the impeachment proceedings.

Washington, Nov. 4. (A.P.)—Federal Judge George W. English of Eastern Illinois resigned today in face of impending impeachment proceedings.

Announcement of the resignation by English was made at the White House almost simultaneously with a call by House members, appointed to prosecute him, for a meeting to arrange plans for his trial before the Senate on November 11.

REPORTS AID IN CANCER FIGHT

Rapid strides in the campaign against cancer are being taken in Massachusetts. Dr. Mary Leisner of the State Department of Health stated today in an address delivered at the Cancer Society Association staff nurses conference in the John Hancock Building.

The hospital at North, the first in the fight against the dread disease, will be ready for occupancy early in January, and said there will be 25 beds and all the latest equipment necessary to combat the disease.

The study of prevalent diseases through reports to be filed by physicians with the State Board of Health has added materially during recent weeks in the campaign. Dr. Williams told the nurses of recent discoveries, and said that she would keep them informed as to new remedies for cancer.

Claims for the purpose of early diagnosis of cancer cases are being established in Worcester, Springfield, Lowell, Lawrence and Lynn.

QUIZ MEXICANS ON RELIGION

Merida, Yucatan, Mexico, Nov. 4. (A.P.)—Provisional Governor Bartol Garcia, newly appointed governor of Yucatan, has ordered all public employees to express in writing within 24 hours their respect to the religious policy of the national and local governments, or to resign their posts.

Several priests and a number of prominent laymen, who were ordered on November 1, are still in jail and will be prosecuted by Federal authorities. Police reported that these arrests were found against the laws in commemoration of the dead in private houses.

Present Generation's

Mode of Living Approved

By Minister at 102

"DOES NOT ALARM ME"
The spirit of recklessness of this generation does not alarm me," says the Rev. Edward Stuart Best, Malden's "grand old minister." He has passed the 102 milestone.

SPENDS MUCH TIME IN HIS GARDEN
The aged minister enjoys sitting in the garden of his home at No. 92 Lawrence street, Malden. There are too many evils today to discuss them, he says, but even at that he would not change the mode of living.

HAS BIG "FAN" MAIL
One of the greatest pleasures of the Rev. Mr. Best's advanced age is answering the many letters he receives each day from all parts of the country.

DEVOTES MANY HOURS TO READING
He is very fond of books and in his library are many prized collections, which give him much enjoyment. He looks upon marriage as life's greatest institution, and a great guide to happiness.

ENJOYS STROLL
Twice each fair day the oldest minister in the world takes a little stroll about the neighborhood.

Summer Bachelors

A Frankly Revealing Serial of Boston Night Life

By WARNER FABIAN

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR

Derry Thomas, an attractive business girl, while shopping, permits Tony Lander, a young man whose name she has overheard but whom she does not know, pay for a dress fabric she cannot afford. He leaves her without learning her name. Mr. Ostrander, her employer, has her promise not to marry for three years. Derry goes out with Beverly Greenway. He admits he is a Summer bachelor. They meet Preston Smith, a Boston politician, at a North Shore club, and then go to a Boston night club. There Derry dances with several attractive men. Martin Cole calls at her office. Derry meets Willowdean French, an old friend. The latter dines with Professor Blackby, another Summer bachelor. Beverly goes away. Derry misses him.

CHAPTER XIII

"COME on!" said Derry, holding Willowdean's arm tightly as she hurried.

Willowdean struggled in her grip. "Where are you going? That's an unkindness."

"I don't care. Hurry!"

"But we're due at the Rectorhe at—"

"The Rectorhe can wait. This won't."

Nor did it. They scrambled aboard as it rocked its way forward, like a unbelled dory in a high sea, climbed desperately to the upper deck, and claved their lurching way, under Derry's leadership, to a forward seat next behind that of a lone male passenger who appeared lost in private thought.

"You nut!" gasped Willowdean. "I hate buses."

Derry ignored the expression of disgust. Then she began to narrate a story in a fair tale.

"Then the horrid, great ore looked at the innocent little girl and saw that she was good to eat. So he pointed at the copper-colored dress—"

She paused for effect, and got it.

The man in front started, half turned, but stopped his pivoting back with a last-minute check.

"What are you saying about?" murmured Willowdean.

"The story I promised you, my dear. So the ore pointed to the copper-colored dress and said in a hoarse voice: 'That one and I will pay for it.' The little girl was very meek and obedient, and always as her elders told her, so she took it and that's all."

DIVORCE ACTION STRIKES BLOW WITHDRAWN AT ROY TRAFFIC OFFICERS BY KRESGE

Detroit, Nov. 4 (A.P.)—Dorothy Kresge, chain store operator, today withdrew her divorce action filed several months ago in Circuit Court here against Doris Mercer Kresge, his second wife.

Judge Alfred M. Mander, after Kresge's petition for divorce, and Doris Mercer Kresge, then went to the court to the judge's office and delivered to him the bill of divorce, the terms of which never were made public.

Mr. Kresge told Judge Mander that he and Doris had parted in an amicable way in New York. The wife said in a written statement without prejudice, and it may be started again. Mr. Kresge refused to reveal the reasons for Kresge's action or to discuss the suit in any way.

ASKS GOODWIN APOLOGY

Worcester, Nov. 4 (A.P.)—Motor Engineer W. E. Baker today made public a letter sent by him to Register of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin in which a public apology was called for from Mr. Goodwin, who Mr. Baker says, unjustly criticized last week the disposition of the case of John P. Hooley of Leicester, who was fined $100 for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

SECOND SECTION

Know how a president is kidnapped? Well, here's how. This daring band of Tech's youngest engineers is shown in the very act of "abducting" with the prized and treasured Soph president, Daniel H. Gill. Like a more famous Dan, he's in the lion's den now—and will be until the field day is over, unless his fellow classmates find the bold brigand bands' haunt and free him from duance vile and otherwise.

AGED TEACHER DUG SNOW 'GLAD IN HIS NIGHTIE'

Times of John H. Buckling, for years headmaster of the St. Paul School, in St. Paul, Minn., getting out of bed on a winter night and saying "I'm glad in my nightie" was a common sight. At a time when the city of St. Paul was in the midst of a winter storm, the headmaster of the St. Paul School, John H. Buckling, was found in his nightie, saying "I'm glad in my nightie" as he got out of bed.

GOODWIN NEEDS MORE AUTO EXAMINERS

Shortage of men in the office of Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin is responsible for the granting of licenses to operate automobiles to incompetent persons.

Superintendent of Police Michael H. Crowley, in a letter today to the Association of Mutual Liability Insurance Companies stated that a more rigid test should be given and Registrar Goodwin came right back with the statement that Crowley

The police official, in his communication, said that the shortage of examiners was one of the "drawbacks to the work of minimizing traffic accidents in Boston."

"An applicant may be a thoroughly respectable man, may be a total abstainer from the use of intoxicating liquors, but at the time he may be of a nervous temperament and may not be able to handle the wheel as an operator of a car," Crowley said.

"Consideration should be given to the applicant's nervous application when tests are given."

As to the statement Recorder Gooden replied, "Subsequent to the present tests, the department will give more rapid examinations, will refuse to drink incompetent drivers from the highway and will give them more longer tests for each applicant. At the present time we have enough examiners to handle the present number of applicants.
We certainly haven't enough examiners to handle any more than the present number."

In Superintendent Crowley's letter
a communication from Captain James Laffey of traffic to the superintendent was quoted.

What has GOLD DIGGING got me?

DO gold-diggers go into it deliberately, heartlessly? Do they come to New York with the main purpose of acquiring diamond bracelets, seven-carat diamond rings, platinum net bags fringed with pearls, sable coats, and dress creations of Paquin and Poiret? And do they count—and pay—the price?

For the first time in the history of any magazine, a girl known on Broadway as an expert "gold-digger" comes clean with the story of why she and thousands of other girls follow that lucrative "side-line."

CASTORIA

'The Young Mother.

Theills of infants and children should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to his happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so

The quietest rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrup, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

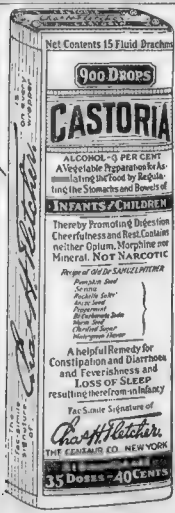

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

FERRANTI TRANSFORMERS

Improve Your Loud Speaker Reception

You may think a duplicate of a better or more perfect than the one you have with the latest patent. Ferranti transformers are the best in the world for their purpose. They are made of the finest materials and are built to last. They are the only transformers that will give you the best results in your loud speaker system. They are the only transformers that will give you the best results in your loud speaker system. They are the only transformers that will give you the best results in your loud speaker system.

The Nearest Perfect Transformer

have been trying everything that appeared to give results in theory or practice. Hundreds of circuits were tried, choosing over advanced electronic, physics, mathematics, astronomy, chemistry, and no one was able to give a satisfactory result. It was not until the Ferranti transformer was introduced that the problem was solved. The Ferranti transformer is the only transformer that will give you the best results in your loud speaker system. It is the only transformer that will give you the best results in your loud speaker system. It is the only transformer that will give you the best results in your loud speaker system.

COUPLING COIL

It is a 30 x 30 x 30 inch coil, with 10 turns of wire, and is made of the finest materials. It is the only coupling coil that will give you the best results in your radio system. It is the only coupling coil that will give you the best results in your radio system. It is the only coupling coil that will give you the best results in your radio system.

TECHNICAL ANALYSIS.

In heterodyne reception there are two beats generated: one in the air.

Centralab Radiom

INSURE DEARER, louder reception with most any radio circuit. It holds perfectly the same reproducing portion which immediately precedes the oscillation point.

Dependable, noiseless in adjustment, and full resistance variation with a single turn of the knob. Resistance values remain exact for life of set. $2.00 for any resistance.

Centralab Radiom

It is an "A" battery unit, also controlled by the knob, giving a double purpose control to your radio. Also furnished in Modulator, for tone volume control in all audio circuits.

FROST-RADIO Parts for Your Infradyne

No. 934—Gen-Jac, 45c

No. 880—Super-Variable Resistance, 50,000 ohms, $1.25

No. 710—Metal Frame Rheostat, 10 ohms, 50c

No. 810—Bakelite Rheostat 10 ohms, 75c

No. 530—Bakelite Socket, 40c

Be sure to select these FROST-RADIO parts for your new INFRADYNE!

GUARD the efficiency of your new Infradyne receiver at these vital points—rheostats, jacks, sockets, high resistance units and switches. Select parts which bear the name FROST-RADIO and you will be sure of getting precision built products that are right both electrically and mechanically. FROST-RADIO parts are a pleasure to work with because of their clean-cut design and fine finish. By selecting them for your Sargent Infradyne you can be certain you have chosen the finest parts obtainable. Shown below is a list of FROST-RADIO parts you will need for this receiver. Get them from your dealer.

Georgia Peach to Take Over Controlling Interest in Atlanta Club

DETROIT, Nov. 4 (N.S.)—Ty Cobb, one of the most colorful players in baseball, who has severed his connection with the Detroit American League club, will take over the controlling interest of the Atlanta Club of the Southern League. It was reliably reported today.

He will be succeeded as manager by George Moriarty, former third baseman, but more recently American League umpire.

Cobb's record in the American League extended over a period of twenty-one years, fifteen years as player and six years as player-manager, and he holds all time records for almost everything except hitting home runs.

Ty quits Big Leagues; Owner of Many Records

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 4 (A.P.)—Ty Cobb, former Detroit Tiger, and the greatest hitter in baseball history, has swung his last bat in a baseball game.

Ty was back home today in the town where he first received recognition as a baseball player, having resigned as player-manager of the Detroit club of the American League yesterday after a colorful career of twenty-one years on the diamond.

Ty saw the realization of a dream of years' yearning came true today, for twelve months ago he had known his desire to resign as the head of the Detroit club so he could spend his time at home.

"The life of a ball player is hard," Cobb said, "and a ball player is on the road lots. I want to settle down and live with my own folks for a while. That's one reason for my getting out of baseball."

"I am tired and want to rest," Ty said. "The game is getting harder each year, and I am getting older. My legs are still good, my eyes are as good as ever, but I can't take the chances any more. A ball player who can't take chances ought to quit. That's what I'm doing."

Ty said he did not expect to play baseball again, although he said he expects to obtain an interest in a baseball club.

"I have swung my last bat in a baseball game," he said. "I am going to be forty years old December 18. I don't want to be one of those men who fade or have to be pushed out of and of course I will never walk to the plate in a minor league."

The former manager of the Tigers known as one of the greatest fighting players who ever kicked a pine for league diamond, was in tears as he finished the statement that his baseball playing days were over.

"The Georgia Peach" said, "of course, I can still hit 'em. I finished this season up in the 'dubs' Cobb, however, did not want to be placed in the class of ball players who had hung on to the very last, a faded player."

Cobb, who in 1916 was sold to the Detroit club by the Augusta baseball club for $700, said he has no plans for the present except "some hunting and a little golf."

Cobb's decision to retire from baseball was brought about, however, by his acknowledged failure to produce a permanent winning team for Detroit. He had played on three "Tiger" pen last winters, but had not been able to develop a championship club on his own.

TY COBB
Greatest of ball players, has resigned his position as manager of the Detroit Tigers after being connected with the club for 21 years.

Dempsey Must Fight Way to Tunney Co

By JACK CONWAY
JACK DEMPSEY must fight his way back to a title bout with Gene Tunney, according to a ruling of the New York Boxing Commission. The former champion will not be handed another title shot on a silver platter as far as New York is concerned at least. "Tiger Jack" is just a heavyweight, according to the New York Commission and is not entitled to preference over the other challengers.

Jack Sharkey, conqueror of Harry Wills, now stands as the first challenger for a bout with Tunney in New York. Dempsey must knock Sharkey from his perch if he is to box Tunney, say the New York boxing fathers.

Dempsey and Tunney are already slated for a return bout or was recorded in this column. This news has also been handed to the sport fans in New York. It called forth a denial from Tex Rickard, the promoter who much upset over the pugilist.

Rickard now cannot very well go ahead with his original program of handing Dempsey a few setups and then putting him in with Tunney.

Tony Carnegy of New Bedford and Johnny Vaca of Brighton are likely to clash in a bout for the New England bantamweight championship. Vaca claimed this title when Chick Burns announced he could no longer make 114 pounds without weakening himself. Carnegy showed a flash of real fighting form when he knocked out Tony Mandell of Worcester in a round at Charney's bout for the title between Carnegy and Vaca would produce plenty of action.

ONE of the greatest arrays of boxers to ever show at a smoke table will be on hand at St. Thomas School Hall, Jamaica Plain, week from Friday night. Jack Sharkey and Jim Maloney are expected to be the main event.

At Melio, Sammy Fuller, George (Big) Lee, Lou Kosash, Rocky Stone, Johnny Vaca, Red Chapman and virtually every other headliner will be on hand to do his stuff.

INTEREST in the amateur boxers is greater this Fall than at any time during the past few years and the weekly tournaments of the St. Joseph's T. A. S. is one reason for the increase. A number of features are planned for next Saturday night's tournament at Commercial Hall, Bowdoin Square.

In addition to a number of newcomers from Providence and Clinton, it is expected that Joe Sullivan of Cambridge who won the heavyweight class in the University City last week will compete.

New Star
One of the greatest fullbacks of the country is Schuller of the Oregon Argies. He weighs more than two hundred pounds, is fast, shifty and hits the line with the power of a batter. In fact, with Nevers and Wildcat when out of the Intercollegiate show, Schuller's seems to be wearing both their mantles.

TOM FOLEY, BALL STAR, IS DEAD IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 4 (A.P.)—Tom Foley, who organized the original Chicago White Stockings, and was called the father of baseball and billiards in the West, died at his home last night, at the age of 84. He had been ill for some time.

Promoter of the first amateur billiard tournament in the country, Foley made a significant contribution to the game when he was a prominent member of the committee which in 1852 formulated the ball-line form of play. He was himself an expert and held the Illinois championship for two years.

Georgia Peach Is Fifth Pilot to Lose Job Since Season's End

New York, Nov. 4 (N.S.)—The passing of Ty Cobb as player and manager and the appointment of George Moriarty and Dan Howley as managers of the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns respectively within a single day again started the baseball world, already shaken by the greatest turnover of managers in the history of the game.

Five have been benched and four successors appointed since the final contest of the World Series less than a month ago.

Those in the discard include two immortals of the game, Cobb and George Brier, for several years player-manager of the Browns; Bill McKechnie, who managed the Pittsburgh Pirates into a world title two years ago; Arthur Fletcher of the Phillies and Lee Fohl of the Boston Red Sox. No successor to Fohl has been announced to date.

Cobb is believed to have capitulated to fan sentiment, which had become distinctly adverse during recent years because of his failure to win a pennant with the Tigers. He did not succeed as a manager, but as a player his memory will never dim. Greatest of all time, he will take most of the records into retirement with him and a great deal of money. Cobb is reputed to be the richest player in baseball.

H. A. GIVES OUT TIGER GAME REGULATIONS
Among the regulations for the Harvard Princeton football game issued by the H. A. A. today, the following should be particularly noted.

No tickets will be on sale at the field and no person without a ticket will be admitted inside the gates.

The privilege of leaving the stadium and returning on stubs, having been abused, the Association is compelled to rule that stubs will no longer be honored for admittance to the enclosure.

Autumnals are warned against leaving their cars in charge of numerous boys who want to "mind your car" as many thefts have occurred in this way.

BASS TO BOX BOSTON BOUT WINNER

New York, Nov. 4 (N.S.)—With the object of establishing a successor to Louis Kid Kaplan in the featherweight class, officials of Madison Square Garden today were endeavoring to match Benny Bass of Philadelphia with the winner of the bout between Honeyboy Finnegan and Chick Suggs in Boston.

This match was postponed last night for one week owing to an injury to one of Finnegan's eyes. Kaplan resigned from the class some time ago because of his inability to make the weight.

It's a "hit"— everywhere!

to natural tobacco taste!

IT'S more than a nation-wide shift from one cigarette to another. Cigarette taste is changing. More and more men are demanding a cigarette of natural tobacco taste. Men want a cigarette in which the character and goodness of fine tobaccos are brought out to the full.

What they want, they have found in Chesterfield—and this explains why Chesterfield is still, as for four years past, America's fastest growing cigarette.

DEAR MR. HUSBAND:
I HAVE received a birthday card from a young friend of mine, I don't like it. I don't like the picture of her city, as I am not thinking in terms of cities. I am thinking in terms of man, what would be the proper way of thanking her for the excellent encouraging him? C. C. G.
[This is quite a novel request, for you should thank your young friend to know what to do to encourage the young man, and you have the fine feeling that the gallant should be thanked, and you have the fine feeling that you make it an enthusiastic thank you, and you have the fine feeling that the hundred point of view—and mighty best taste it. I think they would not like it. I think they would not like it. How would this note do:
I am thinking of you very much more than to remember my birthday, and to send me such a friendly greeting as a birthday felicitation. Thank you most heartily for your thoughtfulness—I appreciate it very much. I don't like the picture of her city, that all goes well with you in California. Yours, very respectfully,

WHEN Mary and Donald were asked to enter their new home, Donald lifted his wife in his arms and carried her over the door threshold. Mary stepped out and set her down on the hearth rug and drew the wood basket toward her.

"We must build our first fire together," she said.

Donald took the basket and filled it with happiness.

When they saw that they built it up and Mary touched a match to it and the sparks had gone out, leaving nothing but ashes on the hearth.

"I am sorry," she said, "but I have tried my best."

Donald came home late and went to his room without knowing what had happened.

When he awoke, the sun was shining brightly and the birds were singing. He slept two hours over his usual time.

He wondered with a frown why he had not been able to get up. Surely he had not waited breakfast.

He went down to the kitchen and demanded punctuality of him. Perhaps she was ill.

He found her room empty and the bed unmade. A letter addressed to him lay on the bed.

He was not alarmed. He unfolded and read.

"Donald, I can not bear it any longer. I have been married for 20 years—the things that count in marriage are missing. I have waited for you for we reach the breaking point. I am tired of waiting. I am tired of always asking for proof. When I think of you, I think of the man who was and the last one, I know that we have failed miserably. I will leave you tomorrow. I will be here day after day—we would have reached the breaking point long ago somewhere to rest and reform. I will wait for you to do the same. Mary."

Donald put the letter away and went to his room.

He was glad that Mary had left him.

the generator. If it also that the would be happier alone, HE would raise no objection to the aspiration. He could have a woman to take his meals at the restaurant. It was better, therefore, than could be expected, that had been so late, so late, so late. He had this plan for a day: no word came from his wife. He was not sure that he had what she intended doing. She had continued ill. A great long man asked him and he prayed for her. He was not sure that he was in the future he would be able to do so. He had made up of dreams that did not last. He was not sure that he was in the future he would be able to do so. But when he sat down by the cold earth with his head on his hand, he was not sure that he was in the future he would be able to do so.
